The Minister for School Standards at the Department for Education, Nick Gibb, recently wrote to me about the latest 2018 Key Stage 2 results of the primary schools in my constituency.

I was delighted to see that there had been an increase in the proportion of children in your school achieving the expected standard in reading, writing and mathematics. This is great news, and I would like to congratulate you, your teaching team and your pupils on the hard work that will have gone into achieving these results.

These more demanding KS2 tests have set a higher standard in schools, and I am pleased that your results show that teachers and pupils in the school have adjusted well to them.

With best wishes,
